Reports From Stricken District Show Dayton Is Suffering The Heaviest

PROPERTY DAMAGE LOSS LARGE

Rivers Rise Rapidly Owing to Breaking of Dams--Floods Sweep Down With But Little Warning--Districts Are Entirely Inundated

In the wake of the storms of Sunday night and Monday morning came news of disastrous floods today in river valleys from eastern Ohio to the Mississippi river and Missouri river. The situation as reported in early dispatches follows:

Youngstown, Ohio—Mahoning river and Crab creek flood embankments. Steel mill closed and 14,000 men unable to work.

West Liberty, Ohio—Engine and one car rolled down embankment washed out by flood of mad river.

Dayton, Ohio—Reports at Cincinnati has it that town is flooded. Report comes from telegraph operator who apparently was compelled to flee from his key.

Delaware, Ohio—Town reported flooded and twenty-one persons were drowned, including the mayor. Citizens flee to high ground.

Fort Wayne, Ind.—St. Joseph, Maumee, and St. Mary rivers on rampage. Town without lights and water facilities feared. Highest water in twenty years.

Kokomo, Ind.—Southern part of city flooded. City in darkness last night when electric light plant was flooded. Use of militia authorized.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Hundreds of persons in suburbs driven from home by rise of Eagle creek and White river. Thousands of head of livestock in state perished.

Marion, Ind.—Levee broken and 500 persons flee for their lives.

Elwood, Ind.—Three hundred homeless by flood.

Lafayette, Ind.—Wabash river 21 feet gauge and rising. Detention hospital flooded, but inmates escaped.

St. Louis, Mo.—One person drowned and many families flee from western part of city because of rise of river Des Peres. Rise due to heavy rains of last forty-eight hours.

Dayton Asks Help.
Columbus, O., March 25.—Adjutant General Wood has received information from Dayton officials that the flood has submerged a large part of the city. An appeal is made for help. Tents and hospital supplies are being packed preparatory to being sent by special train. An appeal for help also came from Larue, Marion county, which is practically inundated.

The washing out of several bridges across the Scioto river in and near Columbus resulted in almost total paralysis of railroad traffic out of Columbus shortly after ten today. The west side levee has overflowed a large area in the western part of the city and hundreds of persons were driven from their homes.

The railroads at 10:40 a. m. cancelled all trains to Dayton because of flood conditions. Efforts to reach Dayton from Richmond, Ind., by automobile, interurban or train were futile.

Columbus Levee Breaks.
With a great roar the levee at the foot of Broad streets broke shortly before eleven o'clock today, sending a deluge of water that swelled the Scioto river, covering a great area. Several small buildings collapsed. The police at 10:40 ordered all persons in the lowlands to leave their homes.

agency supplies of water as the company is expected to be put out of business before night by the flood. The plant of the Indianapolis gas company is under water and the pressure went out of the main before noon.

The report stated waters were rushing through the streets of Dayton like a mill race carrying destruction in their sweep. Hundreds of homes were being washed away, only the strongest of the buildings being able to withstand the tide.

One Is Drowned.
St. Louis, March 25.—One person was drowned today and several families driven from their homes by the rising of the river Des Peres which flows through the western and southern parts of the city.

The flood was the result of a heavy rain which at times during the last 48 hours was almost a cloudburst. Early today it was reported by the police stations in the western end of the city that the river Des Peres was seven feet higher than ever before.

The river flows through Forest Park, the great show place of the city. Today the principle drive there was under six feet of water.

Breaking of Reservoir.
New York, March 25.—A telephone company's line man at Phoneton reported that the flood in the Miami river was caused by the breaking of the Laramie reservoir in Shelby county, about fifty miles north of Dayton.

The operator at Phoneton, a young woman, said that the station there had been made an island by the flood and that she and her assistants were marooned by water fourteen feet deep.

The water in the telephone building in Dayton, she said, was three feet on the first floor and was rising rapidly.

The batteries of the exchange had been flooded but the operators had rigged up a battery on an upper floor.

Miami Rises.
The Miami began rising yesterday afternoon at the rate of six inches an hour," the young woman said, "and continued to rise throughout the night. The levee protecting the Miami broke about six o'clock this morning and there are no indications that the flood is subsiding.

"Practically the entire city is under water and people are taking refuge in their top floors as there is no high country around here to go to. All sorts of debris is floating through the streets. The rain has stopped and there is no wind.

The Laramie reservoir is a body of water about ten miles long and two miles wide and feeds into the Miami river.

Loss Heavy.
Chicago, March 25.—Reports from Indiana and Ohio received up to 12:30 p. m. indicate that there has been no great loss of life due to floods but that the waters are unprecedentedly high in both states and great financial loss undoubtedly will result.

Gov. Cox telegraphed the Red Cross at Washington today appealing for aid for Dayton, Ohio, on representations of great loss of life there.

Bridges connecting the west side with the eastern portion of Columbus were swept away at State and Broad streets this afternoon. Dozens of smaller bridges already had gone out.

Hundreds of men are marooned in factories on the west side and police and national guard troops made rescue in boats where it is possible. All street car traffic was abandoned. 1,500 homes have been flooded.

At Delaware, Ohio.
Delaware, Ohio, March 25.—Twelve persons are dead and fifteen are missing as a result of a cloudburst and flood in the Olentangy river early today.

Levee on White River.
Indianapolis, March 25.—A levee along White river in Broad Ripple, a suburb of Indianapolis, went out today, driving three hundred families from their homes and washing out a mile of railroad track. Only the roofs of some of the houses in the suburbs are visible.

It is estimated that more than 5,000 Indiana families have been forced to leave their homes. So far only four deaths by drowning have been reported, but several persons are said to be missing and may have been swept away with their homes.

Forty Dead.
Columbus, Ohio, March 25.—Information was received at the state capital building today from Dayton that forty persons had been killed as the result of the flood in that city. Adjutant General Wood issued an order directing that the railroad bridge over the big Miami river be blown up. According to reports received the Main street bridge, a steel and concrete structure, had already been swept away.

Loss Not Known.
Indianapolis, March 25.—A telegraph operator at Phoneton, fifteen miles north of Dayton at noon said it was not known how great the loss of life is in Dayton. He said the loss was five to six feet deep in all the streets and that the current is swift and filled with debris. Telephone and street car service has been suspended.

The breaking of a dam caused the great Miami to break through and flood the city. The operator says the water is fifteen feet deep in the main streets of Dayton and seven feet deep in the Union station.

The foreigners who sought refuge in the telegraph office are panic stricken and tell wild stories of the flood, saying that nearly every part of the town is under water and conditions are rapidly becoming more serious.

Under Water.
Middletown, Ohio, March 25.—At 11 o'clock two hundred houses were under water and their former occupants were seeking shelter in the schoolhouses, churches and city parks. At this time the great Miami river was one mile wide at this point and it was reported that a wall of water six feet high was on its way from Dayton.

Twelve Drown.
Cleveland, by long distance telephone March 25.—Twenty persons are known to have been drowned, and others may have been lost in the flood that is sweeping Delaware twenty-five miles from Columbus today. The Associated Press correspondent at Dayton succeeded in reaching this city this afternoon and in furnishing that information.

Scenes at Dayton.
Indianapolis, March 25.—The Western Union Telegraph operator at Dayton, Ohio, says the office is filled with foreigners who have fled from Dayton. Lookers are shooting people down in the streets of Dayton, according to these refugees.

The Fifth Street bridge at Dayton was washed down against the railroad bridge and arrangements are being made to dynamite both structures.

At Springfield.
Springfield, March 25.—This city is in the midst of the worst flood in its history. Both Buck Creek and Mad river have broken from their banks and the lowlands are under water. Several hundred houses in the eastern section of the city have been flooded. These contain families who refused to abandon their homes. Many factories have been compelled to close.

Bridge Goes Out.
Lafayette, March 25.—Two spans of the Wabash river bridge here went out today carrying a number of people with them. Boats below the bridge succeeded in rescuing all but two unidentified men who have not yet been found.

Arkansas Tornado
KILLS TEN PERSONS

City of Leslie Reported Struck—Fifteen Said to Have Been Killed at Mankana, Illinois.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—A message received here today from Leslie, Arkansas, about sixty miles north of Little Rock, says a tornado in that vicinity last night killed eight or ten persons.

Fifteen in Illinois.
St. Louis, March 25.—Fifteen persons are reported to have been killed in the tornado that struck Mankana, Ill. one hundred miles south of here, last night.

At La Fayette.
La Fayette, Ind., March 25.—The west end of the Brown street bridge over the Wabash here, was washed out this afternoon, and it is reported a number of people are missing who were watching the flood.

ONLY FULL CITIZEN
CAN VOTE THIS YEAR

Madison, Wis., March 25.—In numerous replies to letters received Attorney General Walter C. Owen has ruled that only full citizens can vote at the spring election. Secretly a day that a half dozen letters on this subject are not received.

MONTENEGRO ANSWERS AUSTRIA'S NOTE BY ACCEPTING DEMANDS

Will Permit Non-combatants to Leave Besieged Fortifications—Also Appeals to Powers.

Cetinje, March 25.—The Montenegro government, in replying to the Austro-Hungarian note, agreed today to permit the civilian population of Scutari to leave the city. This was the most radical of Austria's demands.

At the same time Montenegro informs Austria that the Montenegrin government has addressed a note to the Powers protesting against Austria's action, which Montenegro calls a breach in neutrality.

Over Suggestions.
Cologne, Germany, March 25.—The reply of the Balkan allies to the Powers on the suggested mediation will propose that the future frontier between Bulgaria and Turkey should run from Midia on the Black Sea by way of Muradli, above Rodosto, to the Gulf of Sarof, an inlet of the Aegean sea. In this way Bulgaria would be excluded from the Sea of Marmora.

In accordance with the desire of the Powers, Bulgaria, however, and the other Balkan allies, insist on the payment of an indemnity by Turkey. They are willing to suspend hostilities at once if Turkey surrenders the fortress of Adrianople and dismisses her army.

Stop Bombardment.
Belgrade, March 25.—The bombardment of Scutari is understood to have been stopped on orders from the Serbian government. Serbia acted on the advice of the French and Russian ministers, who notified the Serbian premier that the powers had come to an unfavorable decision that Scutari must belong to the future state of Albania.

Capture Forts.
London, March 25.—The Bulgarian besiegers today captured the first line of defense around the Turkish fortress of Adrianople after a bombardment lasted several hours, according to a dispatch from Sofia.

Alleged Member of
ARSON RING FREED

Chicago, March 25.—Joseph Frank, one of the two score of men arrested as a result of the "arson trust" investigation was found not guilty today by a jury in Judge Windes' court.

Frank collected $1800 for a fire in his clothing store. The state claimed that rags saturated with gasoline were found in the place by firemen. Frank said that the fire started from a defective gas light, about which he had complained to the gas company.

Held for Death of
AGED WAR VETERAN

Minneapolis, March 25.—Gust Gustafson, accused of the murder of W. A. Darling, an aged veteran of the civil war and then shooting at the driver of a police patrol wagon Sunday morning, was indicted for murder in the first degree late last night by the Hennepin county grand jury.

Gustafson was arrested early in January suspected of having attempted to blow up the Wells Memorial House and deported to Sweden, but gave the detective who had him in charge the slip while in New York and later returned to Minneapolis. He has bothered the local police at frequent intervals since March, 1909.

Desperate Fighting
AT SANTA BARBARA

Constitutionalists Defending Chihuahua City Against Attack of Federal Forces.

El Paso, Tex., March 25.—Desperate fighting has been in progress on the streets of Santa Barbara, a suburb of Parral, Chihuahua, since early yesterday morning, say direct telegraphic advices received here today. The Constitutionalists are defending the town against an attack of federal forces from Parral.

STORM DAMAGE IN COOK COUNTY GREAT

Appalling Loss of Property in Cook County Caused by Yesterday's Storm—Many Homeless.

Chicago, March 25.—Wire men of the fire department worked feverishly today to restore the electrical alarm system which was seriously impaired by the storm which yesterday hit the city.

It is estimated that the damage done in Cook county, including dwellings demolished, the miles of wires and poles prostrated, windows smashed, basements flooded, railroad property and machinery injured, will aggregate one million dollars. The greatest loss falls on the telegraph and telephone companies. Despite cold and snow, former occupants of most of the thirty dwellings which were wrecked continued search for valuable, but made little attempt to clear away the debris. The contents of the houses for the most part were considered a dead loss.

BRIDGE WASHES OUT
CAUSING BAD WRECK

Fast Pennsylvania Train Has Bad Accident in Ohio But None Are Injured.

Bellevue, Ohio, March 25.—The engine and rear sleeping car of west bound Pennsylvania train No. three plunged into Mad River at the edge of West Liberty early today, but the sleeping car fell at the side of the stream and the passengers crawled through the windows and waded to shore. The other six coaches of the train remained on the rails.

Heavy rains had swollen the river until the bridge was swept away just as the train arrived. The train was running over the Big Four Railroad from Urbana to Bellevue, because of washouts on the Pennsylvania line.

Washouts on each side of the ruined bridge prevented immediate aid from reaching the train. Meanwhile, the storm kept forcing a rise in the river. A communication had to be established by shouting across the river which is half a mile wide. Inhabitants of West Liberty tried to reach the train by boat, but the current was too swift. For nearly a quarter of a mile behind the train the river had risen over the track.

Parliament Stirred
BY MONEY SCANDAL

Parliament Conducting Investigation Concerning Three Members and Their Interest in American Shares.

London, March 25.—Sir Rufus Isaacs the attorney general took the stand today at the re-opening of the parliamentary inquiry into his dealings in American Marconi shares.

"The situation involving three prominent members of the government and openly called a "scandal" by many prominent legislators, has taken precedent over all other matters in public interest.

SECRETARY BRYAN
VISITS CHICAGO

New Secretary of State Arrived in Chicago Today Where He Will Address The Union League Club.

Chicago, March 25.—Secretary of State Bryan arrived here shortly after noon today from his home at Lincoln, Neb. His train was nearly seven hours late as the result of the western storm. He is scheduled to deliver an address before the Union League club here tonight.

JURYMEN EMPANELED TO TRY PROFESSOR

Oscar M. Olson of University of Minnesota, Faces Trial on Charge of Committing Murder.

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—The work of empaneling a jury was commenced in the district court today for the trial of Professor Oscar M. Olson, the University of Minnesota professor recently indicted on a charge of murder. Professor Olson is accused of shooting and killing Clyde H. Darling, who met his death while passing or attempting to enter the Olson home on the night of March 5.

Several hours after the tragedy Olson surrendered to the police and, according to them, confessed he waited for his chance and deliberately shot Darling, whom he intimidated had broken up the Olson home. Beyond his first statement that it was a case of the unwritten law the accused professor has declined to discuss his case except with counsel.

Professor Olson has been connected with the agricultural college of the state university ever since his youth, either as a student or instructor, with the exception of one year spent at Pullman, Ill. He has always been well thought of by his associates at the university. At the time of the tragedy Mrs. Olson was visiting her parents at their home near Montevideo, Minn. Darling, the victim of the shooting, was a married man.

ALL OMAHA ENGAGED IN AIDING INJURED AND RESCUING DEAD

TWO HUNDRED AND TWO DEAD AND OVER THREE HUNDRED HURT ARE FIGURES GIVEN OUT TODAY.

BLIZZARD NOW RAGES

Terrible Privation and Suffering Comes With Severe Snow Storm Which Hinders Work and Cripples Wires.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Omaha, March 25.—Shivering from cold and awe inspired by the nature of their work, scores of men, women and children today struggled in the snow to rescue dead or injured relatives and friends who lay beneath the wreckage of buildings that crumbled like egg shells by the tornado, which swept over Nebraska and Iowa Sunday, killing more than one hundred and fifty persons in Omaha alone.

The latest reports this morning gave the number of injured as three hundred twenty, but the death list had not increased over the night report of two hundred and two.

Snow Hinders Work.
The snow storm has seriously hampered the work of rescue begun shortly after midnight and continued with gathering force. More than three inches of snow covered the debris in the section of the section of the city which was swept by the cyclone.

Privations of the storm sufferers were greatly increased by the snow following so closely in the wake of the tornado. Women tugging at heavy beams, pulling against posts to find the living and dead ones beneath the tons of wreckage, mutely cheering their hysterical notes, sweeping children, wrapped with shawls and blankets all these figured in the scene which federal soldiers watched while patrolling the afflicted district and keeping the wrecked buildings from conscious looters.

Distribute Supplies.
Later city officials gathered within the lines drawn around the tornado district and helped the soldiers and distributed clothing and other necessities among the sufferers.

More than fifty thousand dollars has already been subscribed for relief, twenty-five thousand by the city commission and equal amounts by citizens.

The injured at hospitals are receiving the best possible attention. Physicians of Omaha and Council Bluffs have volunteered their services and trained nurses have willingly followed the example of physicians.

Those patients who have shown improvement today will be moved from the temporary hospitals to places which have been provided for them by the city officials. Most of them are homeless, losing their abodes in the same instant of receiving their injuries. Many of the patients whose conditions are considered more or less critical have not been told of the complete loss which the tornado made of their property.

Wires Are Crippled.
The snow which, according to reports, was falling blizzard-like from Colorado to Central Iowa, seriously interfered with the slender threads of telegraphic communication which have been established from Omaha to the outer world.

The fact that such intense suffering is being caused here by the present storm in spite of the heroic efforts being made by the city to provide for all who have been made dependant, caused by Gov. Moorehead to fear that the conditions elsewhere in the state were in a deplorable state.

He stated this morning that he would hasten action before the state legislature to take in sufficient funds for the immediate care of storm victims.

Hospitals Crowded.
The hospitals of the city are crowded, churches, fraternal orders and public institutions have opened their doors. The city officials are assisting with relief work and hundreds of citizens are offering their homes and money to aid in caring for the stricken. Public subscriptions are also being taken by newspapers and the armisties already pledged for relief run into thousands.

Gov. Moorehead who made a tour of inspection of the tornado stricken district today said:

"This is my conception of hell."

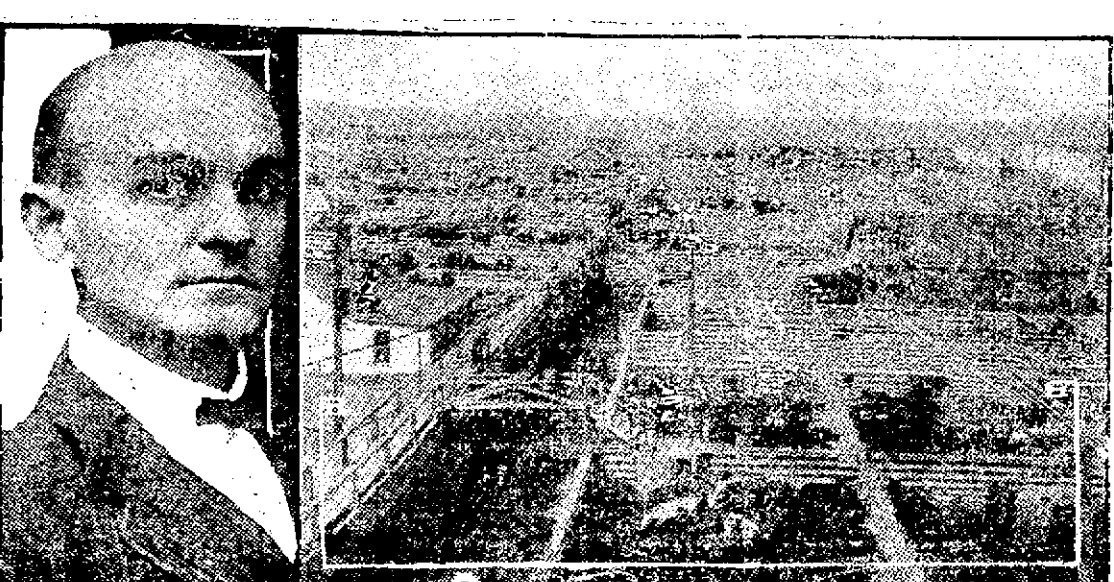

Over 2,000 Homeless.
Omaha's commercial club this morning issued a statement which gives some idea of the sweep of the storm. According to this statement 2,175 are homeless, and 263 are absolutely homeless. Six hundred twenty-four houses were totally destroyed or rendered uninhabitable and 1,027 houses were partially destroyed.

Sixteen additional bodies were taken from the idyllic, a negro pool hall, this morning, making a total of thirty-one thus far recovered from that place. The building, after being wrecked by the tornado, caught fire from an overturned stove and burned.

Train Damaged.
Chicago, March 25.—High wind at Mankana, Ill. last night blew over 18 cars of a 31 car freight train on the Illinois Central. The engine and caboose remained on the track. No one was hurt.

In Monroe County.
La Crosse, March 25.—Heavy damage was done to the farming district of eastern Monroe County, Wisconsin, by a tornado yesterday according to information received when the telephone service was reopened today. The storm was most severe around Tomah, when 100 or more farm houses and barns were wrecked and stock killed by the score. In the city of Tomah the storm was felt but the loss is not great. No persons were killed as far as has been learned.

TWO VIEWS OF RUINED OMAHA AND MAYOR DAHLMAN

As a result of the tornado which swept over Nebraska Sunday night a large part of the city of Omaha lies in ruins. One of the accompanying pictures shows a portion of the bank and business section of the city, which suffered loss by the storm. Another shows the stockyards, which were the city was to call for state troops.

GINK AND DINK.

Manager McGraw tells this one on Luther Taylor, the former mite pitcher with the Giants: "We were down in New Orleans," he said, "Taylor and Bresnahan and I. We all liked Taylor well enough to learn the mite language, so that we could talk with him."

"One day we were riding on a street car when a remarkably handsome woman came in and sat opposite us. We watched her with considerable admiration for a minute, then Roger signed to 'Dummy' on his fingers. 'Doesn't she look good to you?'"

"Before either of us could signal back the woman flashed over in the sign language. 'Yes, and you all look good to me.' And she got off that car without even glancing at us again."

The Chicago Cubs will not be seriously handicapped, even should Catcher, Jimmy Archer, and Owner, Charles W. Murphy fail to agree on Archer's salary. "Rajah" Bresnahan, former New York catcher who managed the St. Louis Cards last year and who now is with the Cubs, is just about as good a backstop as there is. He has been working hard to get into shape this spring. His results have been successful, and it is certain that, without Archer, he can handle the brunt of the work in good style. He is a marvel at bringing out the best there is in a young pitcher.

Carl Cashion, giant twirler on the staff of the Washington Senators, is coming around in form most pleasing to Manager Griffith. From a raw recruit, who knew little of the pitching art and could offer no more than his great natural ability, he has developed into what looks like a great pitching machine. He seems now to be able to get the ball wherever he wants it and does not have to let up in his speed to do it. His speed is terrific; he has a good curve ball; and has become master of a slow ball which Griffith taught him. Washington critics and a good many others expect him to be one of the stars of the present season.

The Ball-players' fraternity is going to take a hand in the matter of players writing for newspapers, according to Sam Crawford, Detroit Tiger outfielder. He bitterly roasts Ban Johnson for his order forbidding ball players to turn journalists and charges that the American League president has things so fixed that he can railroad any player he doesn't like into the minor league.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE TO LEAVE WEDNESDAY

Crack Janesville Team Puts on Final Touches Before Series of Games at Appleton.

Tomorrow at one o'clock the high school basketball squad will depart for Appleton, where they will play in a three day tournament for the state championship. The entire squad are reported to be in the pink of condition, and are ready to defeat all opponents which they might run up against. They will play their first game on Thursday, either in the afternoon or at night. For the past week, the squad have been given much stiff practice, and their work against the alumni of last Saturday night, was the highest seen by the locals this season.

The regular lineup will be used in the first tournament game. Atwood and Dalton will hold down the forward positions, while Hemming will play at center. Captain Falter and Edler will play guards as usual. Doesters on the local five predict some very low scores. They think Edler and Falter will play great games, and that Janesville's opposing forwards will have little chance to score over these men. Hemming is expected to make a great showing, and much is expected of him. Atwood and Dalton, both new forwards, have not met in a tournament at Appleton as yet, but they can be depended upon to hold their own and keep the score for Janesville fairly high.

The school are planning to send a large number to the train to cheer their favorites on to victory. It is understood that several are planning to make the trip, and so a dozen or more may be on the side lines to aid the locals in bringing the state title home, if such a thing can be done.

Full accounts of the games will be received at the Gazette from a staff correspondent who will be in attendance. Particulars on all games will be received by the next morning.

MILWAUKEE LAD HAS SHADE ON M'GOORTY

Fighting Mob Moha Hands Oshkosh Hope a Severe Jolt in Bout at Milwaukee Monday Night.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—Fighting Mob Moha of Milwaukee handed Eddie McGoorty the surprise of his career at the Elite rink Monday night, when after ten rounds of close argument exciting battling he was universally accorded a shade over his Oshkosh rival for the state middleweight honors.

After the first round in which McGoorty managed to peek himself into a shade, Moha assumed the aggressive and stuck to this line of battling throughout. He was on McGoorty from the opening gong in every round. He forced Eddie all over the ring making him break ground repeatedly by well directed blows either to the head or body.

McGoorty on the other hand fought a careful battle and did not seem able to fathom the Moha shell which baffled him at all times. His mighty left worked on occasions only and then it did not seem to bother Robert at all. At that McGoorty put up a splendid argument, appearing in the best of shape although a little the worse for the wear and tear at the close of the mill. There is but little doubt that Moha earned a shade, although quite a number of the recognized critics held out for a draw.

RACINE POLO TEAM PLAYS HERE FRIDAY

Contest is Calculated to Decide Championship of Wisconsin Polo League.

On Friday night of this week the Janesville Moose Roller Polo team are to clash with Racine to decide the question of the leadership of the Wisconsin Polo League, the game to be played here. This will be the last meeting of the two rival teams and the championship is hinged on the outcome.

Janesville has played Racine three times and have been beaten twice having shut out the team piloted by "Fritz" Reichert after one of the most exciting games of polo ever witnessed here in their last game. Reichert and his men split even with the Richmond, Indiana Stars, who decisively defeated the local team in two games. This would indicate that the Racine team has improved greatly and the game here Friday night is sure to be of sterling quality for the Janesville team is anxious to win and win the championship of Wisconsin in roller polo.

Racine has proved a great drawing card against the Moose team as they have several star players in their lineup. "Fritz" Reichert, captain, and half back on the team will be in action at this game and while the outcome is doubtful the game is sure to be closely contested.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY ACTIVE IN MARYLAND

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Baltimore, Md., March 25.—Leaders of the Progressive party in Maryland are rounding up in Baltimore for their state convention tomorrow. Ever since the November election the Roosevelt followers have been busily at work on their district and county organizations. Tomorrow's convention will perfect a permanent state organization and in addition it will map out a program for the future.

The party leaders have already decided definitely against any amalgamation with the Republicans. This decision of the Progressives to reject all fusion plans and stand as a separate organization has disappointed the "harmony workers" on the Republican side. Maryland will soon be called upon to select two United States senators and with the Democrats divided into two bitterly hostile factions it was believed in some quarters that a united Republican party might have a show of success. But these hopes have gone a-glimmering with the decision of the Progressives to go it alone.

But the most of the Republican leaders take the situation philosophically and content themselves with the thought that the Progressives without the Republicans are just as helpless as the Republicans without the Progressives. Meanwhile the organization and anti-organizations wings of the Democratic party are preparing for the battle of the September primaries. The faction which wins in the primaries will have the naming of the two United States senators.

English Imperial Hand Bell Ringers

VOCAL SOLOS, DUETS, QUARTETTES, GLEES, SKETCHES, HUMOROUS SONGS, CELLO SOLOS.

This act is the highest priced ever brought to Janesville and is the most remarkable and finest concert party that has ever visited this city. Prof. Giggie and his Bell Ringing bands have won almost every principal prize offered in contest and is acknowledged to be England's Greatest Director of Hand Bell Ringers.

The company consists of nine men: Prof. W. H. Giggie, the English "Sousa" of Hand Bell Bands. Mr. A. H. Fothergill, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Mr. W. C. Carey, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Mr. J. T. Wilson, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Mr. Reg. Darby, Entertainer. Mr. Geo. Hall, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Mr. A. T. Sorsby, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Mr. E. Greaves, Vocalist and Hand Bells. Master H. France, Cello Soloist and Bells.

Newspapers in various sections of the country have given this company splendid recognition. OTTAWA: The annual concert of the Ottawa Collegiate Association was held last night with the greatest possible success. The committee had placed the whole matter of the evening's entertainment in the hands of Mr. W. H. Giggie and his party of bell ringers and herein had shown their wisdom as they gave one of the finest entertainments seen in Ottawa for many a long day. The part song "Excelsior" is always popular but when it is rendered as well as it was last night there are few songs which find as much favor. Herold's fine overture "Zampa" was done full justice to by the ringers and that fine piece of music "Il Trovatore" was wonderfully played. In fact, Verdi's beautiful piece of music could not have been more truthfully and splendidly rendered.

OTTAWA CITIZEN. The Ringers combine with the knowledge and skill in campanology an equal amount of talent in vocal, violin and cello work and really at last night's opening performance, so many and varied and clever were the efforts of this party, that to praise individual members would be invidious. All were good in every feature they attempted, whilst some of the hand bell selections were masterpieces of skill, the ringers playing together like clockwork automations.

PHILLIPS, WIS.: If applause is anything to judge from, the splendid audience which filled the Opera House last night was well pleased with the entertainment given by the Imperial English Bell Ringers. They gave us a most pleasing entertainment, a musical treat, each member being received with great applause. It was a high class program and well pleased the large audience.

THE BALKAN CHESSBOARD.

All the civilized world is more or less interested in the present crisis in the Balkan affairs. The sudden rise to prominence of the Bulgarian, Serbian, Montenegrin and Grecian kingdoms have created surprise through all Europe and the result of their daring attack upon Turkey, their apparent victories up to date and the relations of the other so-called "Powers" of Europe to the situation is most perplexing. Andre Tardieu, a French editor of note, in the April Century magazine, sums up the situation in the following interesting manner, which just at this period in the affairs of the allies should aid in solving the question asked by so many. M. Tardieu says in brief:

"The views of the powers at the beginning of the (Balkan) crisis might have been classified as follows:

"1. For the maintenance of European peace: unanimity.

"2. For the maintenance of Turkey in her former state: Germany.

"3. For the creation of a strong Balkan federation: Russia, France, England.

"4. Against such creation: Austria, Germany, and, as a subsidiary, Italy.

"5. For the maintenance of the Turks at Constantinople: unanimity.

"But such views had necessarily to be influenced by the onward course of events. How far and in what form?

"Until the year 1912 it was Europe that played the principal part in eastern affairs. Since 1912 Europe has lost her direction of them. She may still make her voice heard, but it is no longer she that leads the game. This is the capital change, and it can not be brought too much to light.

"The Balkan states, after their twenty years' experience, understood that, if they trusted to the great powers to secure the triumph of their claims, either the triumph would be incomplete or they would have to pay too dear for it; and they resolved to act by themselves. They put an end to their old divisions, allied themselves, declared war, and won the victory. And now they are carrying on the negotiations. All this they have done alone without allowing any one to meddle in their affairs.

"In politics nothing carries so much weight with it as success. So the Balkan states have obtained results which henceforth will impose themselves on the great powers, willingly. These results are:

"1. The all but complete disappearance of Turkey from Europe;

"2. The territorial extension of the four allied Balkan states.

"On the other hand, nothing is so imprudent as to try to force too far an already handsome success and to compromise what one has gained by wishing for more. So the Balkan states have spontaneously taken into account the wishes of certain great powers, particularly of Austria, which has backed her wishes with a heavy armament, and they have left outside their capture:

"1. Constantinople.

"2. Albania.

"Such were the conditions of peace formulated by their plenipotentiaries in London, December 20, 1912.

"The solution thus outlined has the air of a compromise, in which the powers have not obtained all they wish, but in which each obtains some satisfaction.

"Here are the checkmates:

"1. For Germany: the disappearance of Turkey from Europe;

"2. For Austria: a notable aggrandizement of Slav states and the closing of the road to Saloniki;

"3. For Russia, though less marked than the preceding: the limitation imposed on Balkan conquests by the Triple Alliance.

"And here are the successes:

"1. Russo-Franco-English: the constitution of a powerful Balkan federation in the place of Turkey in Europe;

"2. Austro-Italo-German: the territorial closing of the Adriatic to Serbia and the creation of Albanian autonomy.

"The great results, therefore, are to the profit of the Triple Entente (England, France and Russia), though the Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria and Italy) has succeeded in limiting them. An understanding on such a basis has been preferred to the risk of a European war."

SPRING HAVOC.

The annual toll of life that comes each spring through flood conditions has been much augmented this year by the numerous cyclonic storms and terrible devastation that has swept over the country. Each spring nature asserts itself and shows its resentments of the encroachment of man by flooding the low lands, doing serious damage to property and endangering life. Each year after the floods subside the residents return to their flooded farms and homes and live for another year, until the next spring floods drive them again to the high lands. Like the ants that build their homes anew when destroyed by man, so do these human ants rebuild on the space danger spots and continue their existence in the face of danger. The annual spring havoc has just begun. Rivers are flooding their banks and we may expect stories of loss of life and property when the smaller streams reach the Ohio, the Missouri and finally the Mississippi on their journey to the gulf.

CLEAN UP CITY.

The city health officer makes a suggestion that all alleys and private properties be cleaned up to prevent spreading of contagion and disease. It is a good move but it should be followed up by a crusade, backed by substantial ordinances, that these properties should be kept cleaned. That there should be substantial penalties for permitting garbage and obnoxious rubbish from accumulating on private property or in alleys. The laws should be carefully drawn and power of enforcement given the proper authorities there could be no question about them, or they could not be evaded by any technicalities. Cleaning up is all right, but to stay clean is the next question.

The special session of congress is soon to start and according to Senator La Follette it will be July before it is finished. If it gets through reforming the country by July it will be all right, but grave doubts are expressed as to when it will finally end.

APUR-MOMENT

According to Experts. Our standing army's on the blink, our navy is about to sink. The tanks are filled with green horns who do not know how to fight.

We may be wiped out any hour by some aggressive foreign power; 'tis hardly safe to go to bed and close your eyes at night.

Our soldiers don't know how to shoot. Our cities, full of golden loot.

Would fall, to any peevish realm, a very easy prey.

That's what our fighting experts claim, who think they know the army game.

But still there's not a foreign power which seems to think that way.

Our fighting force is but a joke. The hardened cynics love to poke their sarcastic shafts at it and get their names in print.

The Nicaraguan army could overrun our country if it would.

And kidnap Woodrow Wilson quick and walk off with the mint.

They say we have no coast defense to speak of in the present tense.

If anyone should start to shoot, we'd merely have to dance.

'Twould be the softest sort of cluck to grab this country, every inch.

But still there is no foreign power that wants to take a chance.

The spirit of our troops is damp. They couldn't lick a postage stamp.

They do not love their country much and do not care to fight.

They're suffering from fright feet. They can beat nothing but retreat.

The armament is fossilized and discipline's a fright.

Our battleships are out of date, the guns are in a fearful state.

There are no coaling stations we can safely call our own.

We couldn't fight a one-round bout, we're simply all in, down and out.

But still the powers seem quite content to let us weel alone.

According to Uncle Abner.

All men are born free and equal, but some of them get married.

A waitress asked Ance Frisby what he would have to eat and at ter lookin' in the restaurant kitchen Ance said he guessed he would take three hard-boiled eggs, a coconut and a couple of bananas.

Ance was willing to take anything but a chance.

EDGERTON JUSTICE NOW UNDER ARREST

J. A. SMITH NOW AT COUNTY JAIL CHARGED WITH FAILURE TO TURN OVER FINE.

WAS LOCATED MONDAY

Sheriff Whipple Does Quick Work in Affecting An Arrest at Helenville in Jefferson County.

J. A. Smith, justice of the peace at Edgerton, Wis., is now at the county jail where he is under arrest on complaint of District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie on the charge of failure to turn over a fine which was levied in his court on an offender last September and for failure to make a docket entry in the case.

Sheriff C. S. Whipple, after a visit to Edgerton and Indian Ford last week, when the warrant was issued, and after a careful campaign over the telephone in which officers in the southern part of the state were asked to watch for Smith, succeeded in locating the man near Jefferson on Monday.

Word was received from Sheriff Charles Vaughn of Jefferson county that Smith had been located. Sheriff Whipple at once left for Jefferson where he secured a rig and drove to Helenville, six miles east of the seat of Jefferson county. He found his man without difficulty and returned to Janesville with him last evening.

District Attorney Dunwiddie stated today that Smith would be brought up for trial before Judge Fifield in the municipal court within several days. In addition to the one offense which is given in the complaint, Mr. Dunwiddie has a list of similar violations which will probably be brought against Smith.

The law prescribes that a justice shall turn over to the county treasurer the amount of the fines collected in his court within thirty days after the same were taken in. For failure to comply with this regulation he may be fined $50 or given a jail term. The law also requires that justices shall make proper docket entry of all cases which are brought before them.

The fact that Smith had been negligent in this matter was brought out at the January session of the county board when a resolution was passed authorizing Mr. Dunwiddie to take such action as he might find necessary against Smith to determine the exact status of his affairs as an official. Several efforts at settlement have proved unsuccessful after the board meeting as Smith seemed to be at a loss to account for the money he had taken in or the cases he had tried, it is said. He held several conferences with the sheriff where he looked over the commitment list and with the county treasurer to whom he made a payment.

TOPICS OF INTEREST TO JANESVILLE MEN

Will be Discussed at Union Brotherhood Meeting at Congregational Church On Wednesday Evening.

Members of the brotherhoods of the Baptist, Methodist, United Brethren, Congregational and Presbyterian churches will hold their third annual union meeting at the Congregational church tomorrow evening. MISSING FARM HAND LIGHTNING'S VICTIM

Body of Edward Suckermueller Found in Cornfield on Farm of Andrew Ellison in Rock Township.

Rock county's sole fatality caused by the storm that swept over a large part of the west and middle-west Sunday was brought to light late yesterday afternoon when the body of Edward Suckermueller, a farm hand employed on the farm of Andrew Ellison in the town of Rock, was found lying in a cornfield about forty rods from the house. Lightning was undoubtedly the cause of his death. He lay face downward, his hat and shoes being torn to fragments. Suckermueller had been missing since late the previous afternoon. He went to make a visit at the home of Patrick Tracey on an adjoining farm and left there at five o'clock. It is believed that he was struck not more than fifteen minutes afterward.

The police in this city were notified by Mr. Ellison as soon as the body was found. Patrolman Harry Smith and an undertaker went out and brought the remains to the Ryan morgue.

Suckmill went to the home of Patrick Tracey, on an adjoining farm, Sunday afternoon, to make a short visit. He left there at five o'clock to return to the Ellison farm. As he did not return that evening or up to late yesterday afternoon Mr. Ellison telephoned to the neighboring farm to make inquiries concerning his whereabouts. Mr. Tracey then started to walk cross-lots to the Ellison farm, and on his way there found the body of the missing young man.

Suckmill lay face downward with his right hand in his pocket. His clothing some distance from his body and was torn to fragments. His hair was singed and the burns of the electric flash could be traced from head to foot. The clothing had been set on fire but had evidently been quickly quenched by rain or the wet snow into which Suckmill fell. The rubbers he wore were unharmed but all the buttons were ripped off his shoes. He carried a watch which had a broken cord and had stopped at twelve minutes after five. Scraps of the precise moment in which he met his death.

District Attorney Dunwiddie was promptly notified of the finding of the corpse on the Ellison farm. His information was passed on to the police, and Patrolman Harry Smith with an undertaker from the establishment brought the remains of young Suckmill to this city. Dr. Frank Van Kirk made an examination of them and pronounced it a clear case of death from lightning.

C. D. Suckmill, father of the unfortunate young man, arrived here this morning from Jefferson, and took the remains of his son home on the Northwestern train leaving at 12:45. Funeral services will be held in that city on Thursday. Edward Suckmill was born in Jefferson and at the time of his death was twenty-four years of age. He had worked at the Ellison farm only a week, but had been employed in that neighborhood for two years. Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Suckmill; six sisters, Mrs. Gray of Ft. Atkinson, and the Misses Matilda, Minnie, Gusta, Agnes, and Esther Suckmill; and one brother, Lawrence Suckmill. B. A. Buggs of this city is an uncle of the deceased. Suckmill was regarded as a valuable workman, was popular with his associates, and of good character.

NOTE LITTLE CHANGE IN LEVEL OF RIVER

Height Above Dam at Eight O'clock This Morning Greater Than Last Evening.

No noteworthy change in the height of the Rock river has taken place during the last eighteen hours except below the upper dam, where the water has dropped about a foot. The highest mark recorded this spring was reached at four o'clock yesterday afternoon when the government gauge registered 37 1/4 inches. By ten o'clock the level had dropped to 35 3/4 inches, but it had risen to 36 1/2 inches at four o'clock this morning. Four hours later the gauge reading was the same.

The Indian Ford and Fulton dams are reported to be holding well and showing no signs of weakness under the tremendous pressure to which they are being subjected. The Yahara river has not reached the highest point recorded last year but may experience sudden a rise later when the ice goes out of the four lakes through which it flows.

Back-water has forced into more basements in buildings near the river since yesterday. The basement of the Lovejoy Block on West Milwaukee street is flooded and the heating apparatus out of commission in consequence.

Although service on the Interurban railway between this city and Beloit has been continuous all day, it was necessary to transfer passengers at the subway south of the city where the line passes underneath the St. Paul railway tracks. A section of the track lies under three feet of water.

NOTED POULTRY WOMAN VISITS A LOCAL PLANT

Mrs. S. Helen Graves of Southboro, Mass., Guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ashcraft.

Mrs. S. Helen Graves, one of the most prominent poultry-raisers in the country, is here from Southboro, near Boston, Mass., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ashcraft at the Blossom poultry farm north of this city. Mrs. Graves and her husband breed the White Rocks and White Wyandottes on the farm which is known as the Rockwood farm. Their fowls have been exhibited for years at the Madison Square Garden show where they have won the world's honors repeatedly. Mrs. Graves was favorably impressed with Janesville and the plants of the local fanciers.

Council Meeting: A meeting of the city council was scheduled for late this afternoon. The approval of the salary list was about the only business to come up for consideration and a brief session was anticipated.

IMPORTANT SESSION OF MISSION BODIES

Two Congregational Societies Will Hold Gathering at Local Church In April.

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Wisconsin branch of the woman's board of missions of the interior, and the thirteenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin women's home missionary union will be held at the Congregational church in this city on April 8, 9 and 10. The sessions of the branch begin Tuesday afternoon and close at five o'clock on Wednesday. The sessions of the union begin Wednesday evening and close at five o'clock Thursday. This is the first time these state organizations have met in Janesville and the gathering promises to be a notable one in the missionary work. Entertainment will be provided for the visiting delegates.

NEGRO'S HAUNTING VISIONS ARE ENDED ON GALLOWES
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brookhaven, Miss., March 25.—When the trap was sprung under Nathan Jacobs here today, an end came to the days and nights of fearful hallucinations with which the condemned negro had been terrorized ever since he learned that he was to be hanged. Jacobs confessed to a cold blooded murder. He had killed an aged negro, while the latter was kneeling in prayer. When taken to the death cell all the superstition and fear of his nature were aroused. For hours at a time the negro prayed to be freed from ghostly forms he imagined were clutching him.

NEW DISCOVERY QUICKLY CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid, removing the cause and curing the troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood, neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder; and puts the kidneys and urinary organs in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate long standing cases, while it cures the most severe forms of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism in a surprisingly short time.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

These sets can not be had at book-stores, nor are they advertised in the magazines. They can only be acquired in this community through The Gazette.

A Coupon Will Appear in The Gazette Daily

after the next announcement as to the date of sale of the Cyclopedias, by clipping it and bringing it with $2.35 to the Gazette office you secure the 5 volume set.

Distribution Within a Few Days

The popular demand for ready reference books as demonstrated by the very large call for the Gazette dictionary of which hundreds of volumes were placed in homes in Southern Wisconsin recently, decided the matter of offering the Cyclopedias to Gazette readers. A contract was entered into some weeks ago with the same publishers who supplied the dictionary and every statement made regarding the quality of the books can be relied upon implicitly.

The Gazette believes the public is deeply interested in matters pertaining to education, the trend of the times is for more definite knowledge and Everybody's Cyclopedias will come nearer filling the popular demand, placing, in fact, a set of ready reference books in the easy reach of every ambitious person, than any offering which has yet been made here.

MAIL ORDERS

The sets will be too bulky to be sent by mail, but out-of-town readers can have them for the $2.35, the set to be sent by express, shipping charges to be paid by the receiver.

The books are big, full octavo size, handsomely bound in English cloth. There are thousands of pages—hundreds of illustrations, full and double page monotone and colors Dates, besides numerous colored charts found in no other reference books.

DINNER STORIES

In a Washington club some time since a member of the Senate started to light a cigar, but became so engrossed in some other thought that he forgot the burning match in his hand until the flame reached his fingers. Whereat former Attorney-General Wickersham smiled.

"A case of absent-mindedness," he remarked, "that reminds me of the experience of a certain professor. One evening on returning home to dinner the professor was met at the door by his wife, who led him into the house with a reproving glance.

"Do you know, John," said she just a little poutfully, "that you went away this morning without kissing me goodbye?"

"Is that so?" responded the professor with a thoughtful expression. "Then who is the deuce did I kiss?"

Recently, so the story goes, an undergraduate, one of the big colleges was given a leave of absence, which he exceeded by two days, and when he returned he was promptly taken in hand by the professor.

"Well," sternly demanded the professor, when the young man stood before him, "what have you to say for yourself?"

"I'm awfully sorry," replied the undergraduate in a repentant voice. "I really couldn't get back before. I was detained by very important business."

"See," returned the professor, in cold tones. "So you took two more days of grace?"

"No, sir," answered the youth, with just a suspicion of a smile, "two more days of Gladys."

The Theatre

WHEN SILENCE IS THE BETTER PART OF ADMIRATION.

To realize the limitations of language it will be necessary to spend an hour or two at Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival which comes to the Myers Theatre on March 26 and 27, matinee Thursday. After the first five minutes, the stock of laudatory adjectives becomes exhausted, and after trying in vain to find words that adequately express their delight, spectators realize that here silence is the better part of admiration. The subject matter and photographs of the new program leaves no loop-hole for the critic because every foot of the film is of the same superb degree of excellence and perfection. Throughout, the new program constitutes the last word in animated photography. It is life itself—palpitating life—glowing in all the luminous colors of nature. It would be impossible to conceive more beautiful views than those which reproduce the wondrous richness and brilliance of nature's own colors in their finest and most delicate shades and which, at the same time, present endless combinations of form and movement that are unrivaled. Details are useless. The essential thing is for the eye to see and appreciate beauty which no words can describe.

"BROADWAY JONES"

Geo. M. Cohan's latest play, "Broadway Jones," which has proved a sensation in New York, will be the attraction at the Myers Theatre, Friday evening April 4.

"Broadway Jones" is positively the best play Mr. Cohan has ever written and it is doubtful if a better play has ever been seen on Broadway. The young author has put a touch of nature into his latest work that lives long in the memory of the audience, the comedy is clean and will appeal to every one. The plot is woven around characters from the walks of every day life. It tells a true story of how a pretty girl can inspire the spirit in a man to fight for his rights and the people who love him.

Included in the cast who will present the play here are John Webster, Ralph Morgan, George Schaefer, Caroline Lill, George C. Staley, Daniel Burns, Jack Pierce, Marie Taylor, Fred Maynard, Grace Morrissey, Edith Luckett, George K. Henry, Charles H. Henderson and Dore Rodgers.

Isabel McGregor, Gwendolyn Piers, Eda Von Luke in "Our Wives," at the Myers Theatre, matinee and night, Saturday, March 29.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, March 25, 1873—John Schicker's German friends are congratulating him on his appointment as commissioner to the Vienna Exposition. They all agree that the governor has made a wise choice in conferring this position upon John, and John is a lucky individual to thus be made the recipient of a favor from such a high source. We hope that Mr. Schicker will go to Vienna, because we feel that the Americans will be well represented at the Austrian capital.

W. B. Stoddard was married this noon to Miss Julia A. Smith the ceremony taking place at the residence of Mrs. Peter Myers. Miss Smith having been a resident at the Myers home the greater portion of her life. Mr. Stoddard is one of our most enterprising and ambitious young men who is building up for himself and his bride a profitable business. The couple went to Milwaukee on this afternoon's train.

The inspection of the fire hose consisted of a trial of five hundred feet of new carbonized hose, the plunger steamer being fixed up for that purpose. The same hose was tested last week with the same engine and under the same conditions and neither trial resulted in bursting it. The water buckets ordered last fall were to be tested at this time but for some reason they have not arrived. It is also intended to test the new hose on platforms that the council has ordered to be built along the river bank. Both of these trials have been successful and if the fire boys only had a platform to dry the hose upon everything would be lovely.

dark crop; they just have fairly made a start when they must up and skip. A little cold, a little heat will quickly kill them off, a little wetting of their feet, a little backing cough, they're tender as the blushing rose of eastern bloom; too quickly they turn up their toes and slumber in the tomb. And yet the world is full of scrubs who don't know how to die, a lot of playfulness dubs, who couldn't, if they'd try. Year after year, with idle chums, they hang around the place, until at last their age becomes a scandal and disgrace. And thus the men of useful deeds die off, while no-goods thrive; you can't kill off the human weeds, nor keep the wheat alive.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

Another milestone of my pilgrimage was passed yesterday, Nov. 8, and I see no stones in the roadway ahead, not an ache or pain, am writing this without my glasses and am opening up a very satisfactory trade in the Everbearing Strawberry plant business. I raised about 4000 of these plants last season and Superb is the best of the ten kinds I have here at Lake Mills, Wis. Oct. 26 last, my boy, Al, S., was up here to dinner and we picked some that measured four inches. They are bound to be a success. And, Mr. Editor, if you have a garden, I will be glad to send you some.

But the weather I sat down to discuss. This snowstorm is only a sugar snow, only it is a little overdone, but we have had but few storms since last fall and we are entitled to more before the first of April.

Very truly,

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and so salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it. In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

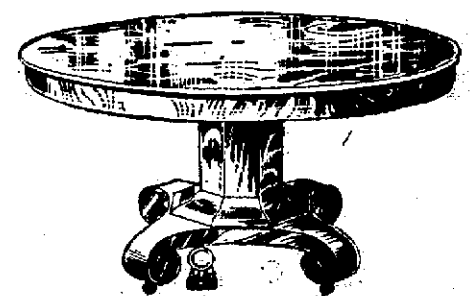

Ask us also about D.D.D. Soap. It helps.

The Modern Kitchen.

Progressive ideas are revolutionizing the kitchen.

Until quite recently, the architect was very well satisfied if living-room, halls, bedrooms, bath and dining-room worked out well in his plans and drawings, and the kitchen was made up of what was left after all the other rooms were satisfactory in his mind and on paper. It made no difference whether with an east, west, north or south exposure, there it was, such as it was and "had to be."

Mistakes have been made in making kitchens too small and too large. We have gone from one extreme to the other, from the small, poorly arranged and inconvenient kitchen to the very large one in the old-fashioned mansion where a woman tell us their cooks must walk miles in preparing the meals. The size of the kitchen must be considered as well as the location of the range in its relationship to the dining-room, the sink, pantry, refrigerator, table, windows and doors.

Well do I remember the troubles of my maid when we lived in an apartment where the window and door opened right beside the stove. If the window was open it blew the gas out, if the door was open the wind also in.

An Everyday Cake

Here is a simple and inexpensive cake that can be varied in many ways with different frostings and icings. It looks a little nicer baked in a tube pan, but will be equally as good baked in a square loaf.

K C Gold Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

1 cup butter; 1 cup sugar; yolks of 4 eggs, beaten light; 1 cup flour, less 2 level tablespoonsful; 2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1 cup milk; grated rind of 1 orange.

Sift flour and baking powder together three times; cream butter and sugar, beat yolks of eggs, add these to creamed mixture, and lastly add the moisture and flour alternately, beating batter until smooth. Color with grated orange rind, using a rotary beater. The rotary beater is the only beater that will do justice to the yolks of eggs. The beating kills all egg taste and improves the texture of the cake.

Coconut Frosting

Beat the whites of 2 eggs dry; gradually beat in half a cup of sifted confectioner's sugar and continue the beating until the frosting is smooth, thick and glossy; then beat in grated coconut, fresh or prepared, and spread upon the cake. This frosting is made thick by beating rather than by sugar.

Save this recipe. You will want to use it frequently. Or better, send us the colored certificate packed in each 25-cent can of the K C Baking Powder and we will mail you "The Cook's Book" containing this and 89 other baking recipes equally good—all by Mrs. Hill, Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago.

BY RUTH CAMERON

ONE FORM OF VANITY.

VANITY is a vice, or perhaps I should say a failing, that shows itself in a great many ways.

Sometimes it appears frankly in its own proper form and then again it puts on some more successful disguise.

False humility is one of these disguises. Jealousy is sometimes another. Self-consciousness is another. But the disguise I want to speak about today is an unwillingness to appear in any part in which one cannot hold the center of the stage.

Perhaps I should hardly call it a disguise at all, because to the eye that understands it is such a palpable form of vanity.

A friend of mine was at a summer resort last year where tennis was the favorite game. Everyone played, especially the double game. My friend played a fair beginner's game, and was promising herself a good deal of pleasure playing doubles during the week her fiancé should be with her. She knew he had not played much, but a good many of the players were beginners, and she felt sure he would pick it up easily. When her fiancé came, he played one game and then refused to play again. Not because he didn't like it or wasn't progressing well, but simply because he couldn't at once play so well as the crack players.

He couldn't bear to be surpassed even by men who had been playing for years, and so he refused to enter the lists at all.

Can you beat that for absurd and childish vanity? And yet I don't doubt that he would be most indignant if anyone accused him of vanity. He would probably regard his act as a proof of humility.

Incidentally this man is an expert swimmer. He has spent years perfecting himself in this sport, and could easily outswim any of the men who outplayed him at tennis. One would think that superiority would have contented him, and that he would have been willing to show himself inferior in other sports. But he was like a spoiled child that won't play unless he can have his way all the time.

I hope few of us are so childishly vain as this, but I know that many of us have some touch of this weakness.

We hate beginnings; we are loath to try to acquire skill in any new direction. If we have a talent in any one line we are apt to cultivate that exclusively and let ourselves grow narrow in other ways. We want to be always competently doing this while we do easily and well.

All this is not good for the soul; we need to do the thing that comes hard; we need to rub up against men and women who know more than we do. We need to join in the sports in which we are surprised. Only so can we grow, and only so can we keep a proper idea of our relative unimportance.

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN

by Barbara Boyd

Old Age Bad Form

HERE are the old ladies of yesterday?" the poet might well sing. And the answer would not be a mournful shake of the head, and a reference to the hillside cemetery. Rather would it be a finger pointed to a group of smartly dressed, stylishly coiffured dames discussing the political situation, the milk inspection of their city, or a successful hand at bridge. They would bear their years lightly upon them. If one undertook to guess their ages, he might venture forty-five or fifty; or if their crowns of glory were snowy, he might stretch it to fifty-five. Whereas the probability is they would be nearing if not past the seventy milestone. But there would be none of the old-time ear-marks of seventy. There would be high spirits, erect bodies, fresh complexions, comprehensive understanding of the affairs of the day. Old age as we once knew it, has largely vanished.

Some people regret the passing of the old lady. They think the bowed figure in rusty black sitting silent in the armchair, with hair drawn tightly back into a little knot and face wrinkled and a trifle sad, wielded an influence altogether lacking in the smart matron of today with her talk of bridge and civic betterment.

But is this so? Does not the old lady of today have more real influence in the practical affairs of life, and does she not have a fuller life? And ought not she and her gain to be considered, as well as what she may hold in her hands for others?

So ought not the new old lady be hailed as a step forward to a better understanding of life? And ought not the means by which she makes this step be proclaimed far and wide, that all may take it? Should not the waters of this fountain of youth be tapped for public drinking places everywhere, that all may be refreshed?

And how with advancing years has woman grown young, instead of growing old? The comprehensive answer would be by changing the attitude toward life. In concrete details, it would be first by changing the methods of her chief vocation—housekeeping; and then by bringing into her life, fresh and live interests.

She is no longer the slave of her housework. It no longer keeps her under its thumb to the tune of Monday, washing; Tuesday, ironing, and so on. She bundles up the washing and sends it to the laundry. Her broom has become transformed into a vacuum cleaner. She works with her brain instead of her hands. Consequently, she is more alive all over, and she has considerable time in her hands.

And this time, she uses for golf, for walking or motoring, which keeps her figure erect, her step brisk, her complexion clear. Some of it also goes for bridge, or civic work, or some special study, and so her spirits are good, her mind keen. She is so busy with these things, she never thinks about getting old. Indeed, she is beginning to look on old age as bad form. She would no more be guilty of wrinkles and ignorance of the affairs of the day, than she would of not knowing which fork to use, or how many cards to leave when calling.

And isn't it worth while to drink of these waters of the fountain of youth? And they are bubbling up right in your own kitchen, and that is the place to begin to drink. If you are the slave of your housework, if you know nothing but its monotonous round, you are on the road to an early old age.

Barbara Boyd.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—A certain girl tries to draw the attention of a certain young man to herself whenever anyone else begins conversing with him. What do you think of her? (2)—What would be a pretty way to make a girl's graduation dress, the goods being white scalloped embroidery and skirt width?

(3)—Is there any harm in writing one's name and address on eggs which are to be sold? (4)—What do you think of a girl who asks the boys to take her places? (5)—What will take tartar of the teeth? (6)—What is meant by this sign: A boy places a wishbone over the door and waits for a girl to pass through the door.

BLOND AND BRUNETTE.

(1)—She is not well-behaved. The boy will soon learn to shun her. (2)—Make a bolero of the scalloped embroidery, for the waist and drape the skirt in the most becoming way. Wear a wide wash of soft silk, with the bow and ends at one side. To make a pretty effect fasten a cluster of artificial flowers where the skirt drapery is caught up and wear a large corsage bouquet of the same flowers.

(3)—No particular harm, except that your name might fall into the hands of somebody who might make a wrong use of it. (4)—She is rather forward. The boy is supposed to do the inviting, though once in a while a girl may say that she would like to go to some certain place. (5)—Before retiring at night pack powdered charcoal around the teeth. Use fine table salt for a tooth powder. Do this for awhile, and rinse the mouth thoroughly with peroxide of hydrogen after each meal. (6)—The first girl who passes under the wishbone is supposed to be his fate.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—Is there very much harm in a couple kissing who have been acquainted only a short time, but think a good deal of each other? (2)—How often should a couple write to each other when separated, and care for each other? (3)—The young man says he thinks so much of me but one can't depend on what he says sometimes. Do you think he means what he says?

SOREHEAD.

(1)—You may be sorry for it later on. (2)—Once or twice a week. (3)—Probably means it right now, but don't depend too much upon what he says. He means business only when he asks you to marry him and is anxious for you to name the day.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Housewife. To Clean Bedsprings—I find the best and easiest way to clean bed-springs is to take them out on a warm day and turn the hose on them. Will take out every particle of dust and will not rust if dried in the sun.

To Wash Lace Curtains—Take curtains by pairs, fold once across middle, then the loosely around the middle with a strip of cloth about two inches wide. Use this strip to lift the curtains until they are ready for the stretchers and they will not get tangled or torn in the tub.

Put warm water in a tub (sufficient to cover the curtains) and dissolve in it two tablespoons borax to each quart of water. Let curtains soak in this for several hours—all night, if possible. In the morning put through wringer into a tub of almost hot suds made with any good laundry soap. Do not rub, but press carefully with the hands till clean.

While curtains are boiled, then rinsed and blued the same as any white clothes, but ecru curtains should not be boiled or blued. Wash in suds and rinse in clear water. To restore the ecru tint, put some strong coffee in the starch. Starch for curtains should not be very stiff, just enough to restore the dressing that was in them when new.

When putting the curtains on the stretcher have a basin of clear water and a clean cloth at hand to wet the curtain if it dries while being stretched. Curtains will look nicer if dried out of doors in the sun.

Things Worth Knowing.

I keep two pieces of paper—about a foot square—in my flour bin and when sifting flour and baking powder for cake, biscuits, dumplings, I can sit them several times from one paper to the other without any trouble. It is much easier than with pans and they are always ready. They are also always handy if I want to roll sugar, crackers, etc., and save much muss.

To Make Dry Bread and Cake Fresh and Soft—Wrap bread or cake in dry cloth, put it on a plate and in a steamer. Set steamer over your boiling dinner to save gas. Watch very closely and when soft remove from cloth. A whole dry loaf and cake, or just a slice will become fresh and soft if steamed in this way.

Their Similarity.

The social reformer was inspecting the slums. "I have come to the conclusion," he remarked, "that good men are mighty scarce." "And bad ones are apt to make themselves so when they are wanted," replied the plain-clothes man who was showing him around.—Philadelphia Record.

PRETTY FROCK OF TAN LINEN

Here is a very pretty frock of tan linen, trimmed with diamond-shaped pearl buttons. The yoke is of white net and finished by a narrow tie of blue velvet to match the buttons. The sleeves are puffed below the elbows to fitted forearm sections. Two embroidered tabs are placed below the drapery on the left side of the skirt.

Phone The Grocer

Next time you phone the grocer ask him to send you a can of Van Houten's Rona Dutch Cocoa. Then make this simple test:

Put only one-half a teaspoonful of Rona into a cup into which you have put one-half the amount of sugar you usually use. Add boiling water and see how Rona Cocoa dissolves instantly. Just sip that rich, Dutch, chocolate flavor. Now you can see why excels all domestic Cocos. In the first place it's more economical—you use only half a teaspoonful to the cup. And then, it's much richer, smoother, finer. That's because of the Dutch process.

VAN HOUTEN'S RONA DUTCH COCOA

Try this nourishing food today. Phone the grocer and make the test.

GOLD DUST makes hard water soft

By the use of Gold Dust you can at all times have nice, soft rainwater right at your elbow for the asking. Imagine what a help this would be for washing clothes, and for all cleaning purposes!

Just a little Gold Dust added to any water softens it, takes out the mineral substances and brings out the greatest cleansing value.

Gold Dust dissolves dirt and grease, works like lightning, and relieves house work of all its drudgery.

For your poor back's sake, don't try to keep house without Gold Dust.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work."

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish once-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your ranges, registers, fenders and stoves bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush free with each can of enamel only.

Use the BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough, stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 2 1/2 pints of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membrane is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in glycerol and all the natural healing elements of absolute satisfaction. Or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES ON FACE

Developed Into Sores: Would Almost Scratch Himself Raw. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Completely Cured Him.

Watson, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw."

"I had used several different kinds of ointments, but none of them helped in the least bit. When I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children, I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now. I also use Cuticura Ointment on the older children's heads and it leaves the hair soft and silky." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap (25c), and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

*Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

Bowels Get Weak As Age Advances

The First Necessity is to Keep the Bowels Gently Open With a Mild Laxative Tonic.

MR. O. P. MILLER

Healthy old age is so absolutely dependent upon the condition of the bowels that great care should be taken to see that they act regularly. The fact is that as age advances the stomach muscles become weak and inactive and the liver does not store up the juices that are necessary to prompt digestion.

Some help can be obtained by eating easily digested foods and by plenty of exercise, but this latter is irksome to most elderly people. One thing is certain, that a state of constipation should always be avoided as it is dangerous to life and health. The best plan is to take a mild laxative as often as is deemed necessary. But with equal certainty it is suggested that cathartics, purgatives, physics, salts and pills be avoided, as they do but temporary good and are so harsh as to be a shock to a delicate system.

A much better plan, and one that thousands of elderly people are following, is to take a gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts as nearly like nature as is possible. In fact, the tendency of this remedy is to strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles and so train them to act naturally again, when medicines of all kinds can usually be dispensed with.

This is the opinion of many people of different ages, among them Mr. O. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., who writes: "I am 80 years old and have been constipated for many years. Since receiving your sample bottle I have procured two 50c bottles and find that it is the best remedy I ever used."

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin, and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

used and does just what you claim for to the very letter. I can not recommend it too highly."

A bottle can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar. People usually buy the fifty cents size first, and then, having convinced themselves of its merits they buy the dollar size which is more economical. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Any elderly person can follow these suggestions with safety and the assurance of good results.

AILING WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Hilbert Tells of Her Distressing Symptoms During Change of Life and How She Found Relief.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do."

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD E. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

MUSTEROLE brings quick and blessed relief to the sore throat and leaves a delicious feeling of ease and comfort.

It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. You simply rub it on. No plaster needed.

Better than a mustard plaster and positively does not blister.

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuritis, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frostbite, Feet and Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

Doctors and nurses frankly recommend MUSTEROLE. It is used in large hospitals.

At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will send you a jar, postage prepaid.

George L. Mosley, Martinsburg, W. Va.—"Musterole is just fine, and is an immediate relief for inflamed throat and pain in the back. It's the best thing I have ever tried."

Gertrude had been home in the valley perhaps a fortnight when she received the following illuminative epistle from her brother:

Charlotteville, June 15.
Dearest Sister—We have left the valley. I suppose to join in the defense of Richmond. You know what that means under Jackson. This is the first moment I have found to write to you since you decided to go home. I know what you have passed through, but do you know how it came about that you got through as lucky as you did? Probably not. Now, I will tell you. It was all very well for Richmond department to send you in certain company by way of Baltimore, but when it came to the place at Harper's Ferry influence at Washington had to be brought to bear. Whose influence? General Buckthorn's. General Buckthorn must have acted at the promulgation of some other Federal officer, presumably Colonel D. And how did our dear colonel happen to be so alert in behalf of a couple of southern women traveling at their own risk?

Gertrude Kerchival W. is, or was, in Washington either on sick leave or on some confidential mission. He must have moved heaven and earth and even staged a point or two of discipline for your sake. I don't know the exact circumstances, but I do know old Kerchival God bless him! He can't help it if he is a Yankee.

Now you know what he did for you and perhaps you will understand the ugly look it must have taken for him at Washington when I tell you that your dangerous traveling companion took advantage of the situation to wheedle the Federal guard at Berryville into making an exchange of prisoners with our guard and thus rescued a certain secret service officer whom you and I know only too well and who is now back again in the Confederate service. What is to come of it all? I don't know, but, sis, be careful. Keep this closely to yourself and never forget it.

When you will next hear from me and what you will hear no mortal can predict—except that I shall be found in the line of duty. May heaven bless and keep us all in the constant prayer of your errant brother.

CHAPTER VII.

"He's a Yankee Spy!"

WHILE Gertrude Ellingham read and reread and pondered and cried over this letter and kissed it furtively, as if in concealment from her very self, the five army corps of McClellan, having encountered the defensive Confederate forces now under direct command of General Robert E. Lee, had fought the indecisive battle of Fair Oaks, otherwise called Sora's Place, and were lined up along the Chickahominy stream, almost within gunshot of Richmond.

They thought Lee had detached a corps and sent it westward to re-enforce Jackson in the valley. Instead, Jackson was sweeping eastward to join Lee, who more than a year after the commencement of the war was at last to take active command of a large army in the field.

General McClellan on the threshold of his grand opportunity at the gates of Richmond opened his assault upon Lee's lines of defense at Beaver dam, near Mechanicsville, on the Chickahominy. It was the first of the Seven Days' battles, soon to go into history.

There was fierce fighting every day that week—at Gaines' Mill, Savage Station, Glendale, all through the dark and desolate White Oak swamp and tion. Glendale, all through the dark and desolate White Oak swamp and along the sluggish, noiseless Chickahominy. Jackson, in his old time fighting form again, in the field with Lee, Stuart and Longstreet, strove to make up for lost time and did his full share in forcing the enemy steadily back from Richmond. But that enemy was McClellan, a foe of different caliber from any the Virginians hitherto had faced.

McClellan was indeed doggedly falling back toward the James river, but as soon as he got into communication with the Federal gunboats on that stream he concentrated his artillery on Malvern hill and made a stand which demonstrated that his so-called "change of base" from the York to the James river, whatever necessity may have dictated it, was a military movement executed in masterly fashion.

Amid the horrors of that retreat—in which were included thousands of sick and wounded who could not have stirred but for the dread of the tobacco warehouses in which the southerners penned their prisoners of war—a young lieutenant clad in the remnants of a blue uniform which at first opportunity he exchanged with a dead soldier for a suit of dingy gray, crept off into the thickets of the Willis Church road along the slope of the hill.

Parched with fever and crippled with a wounded foot, he lay there all night in the feverish damps, then pressed on at daybreak in what he thought to be the direction in which the Federal troops had moved off the night before.

As he drew near what looked like a deserted cabin in a lonely gulch, an old, dilapidated looking negro ran out, and, glancing at the fugitive's uniform, implored him to "jest send a speech to Charleston that old marster was sick and los' in de wilderness, an' den mebbe somebody would send or come to get him."

The young wayfarer would have been glad to get off a dispatch somewhere else in his own behalf, but that signified nothing. He followed the gaunt old negro into the cabin.

There, on a bed of juniper boughs, lay gasping and choking a Confederate soldier with a ghastly bullet hole in his forehead, and the stumps of death on his livid face. An elderly, gray-haired man, evidently a surgeon, knelt on the ground and made feeble efforts to minister to the comfort of the dying one, while his own teeth chattered and his hands shook with age.

"Died Dr. Ellingham," the negro whispered, "and he's one of de richest men in Charleston, when he's home. But we ain't got no money now, and here's poor Sam Pluckney shot—I reckon de Yanks have done for him, sho'. De doctor's a little bit out of his head, too, on 'count of de fever, but he reckoned he'd stick to Sam, an' of course I sticks to de doctor."

"Pete," said Dr. Ellingham in his dazed way, "you might ask the gentleman if he has anything besides water in his canteen."

The young man drew a small wicker flask from his pocket and handed it over. The surgeon reached out a shaking hand, then said:

"You had better give him a little; you are staidier than I am."

Here the wounded man made a sound as if choking.

"Mebbe it's phlegm in his throat," said the faithful old slave. He poked a black finger into the poor fellow's mouth and pulled out a quid of tobacco that must have been there ever since Sam was shot. Then a small quantity of liquor was poured between the pallid lips, but the case seemed hopeless.

At that instant loud voices were heard outside, and then a Confederate captain and two soldiers rushed into the cabin.

"Oh! - - Oh!"

"Ah, here they are!" shouted the captain. "Major Ellingham, I've been searching for you everywhere. You shouldn't have left the ambulance in your condition. Pete, you black scoundrel, is that the way you take care of your master?"

"I am glad you have come, Captain Thornton," said Dr. Ellingham, feebly. "Here is Sam Pluckney, in very bad shape."

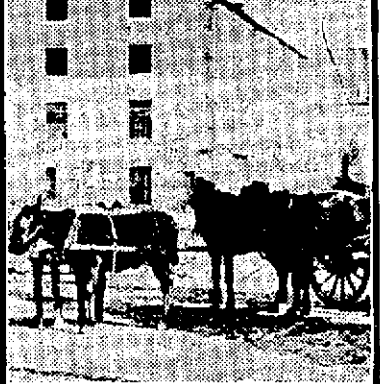

"And whom have we here?" asked the captain, staring at the young stranger who had proffered the flask and paying no attention to the wounded man.

"Great God! Ed Thornton—I thought I knew you!" exclaimed the young man addressed, peering into the insolent, scarred face of his questioner. "And I presume you know me as well."

"I know you're in a pretty ticklish position with that Union belt on under a Confederate uniform and inside our lines. Men, search your prisoner. He's a Yankee spy."

"That's a lie, Thornton, and you know it! I was in the fight, open and fair, and I wouldn't be here now only that I stopped to try to help your comrades. Let me alone, I say."

He struggled so fiercely, despite his weak condition, that the efforts of the two soldiers were required to hold him while Thornton minutely searched his person.

"Letters—Washington and New York postmarks—and—ah! What have we here? Pretty little sentimental keepsake, eh? Where have I seen the lady's face? Pardon me if I read this inscription on the back of the case."

What he had found was a miniature, the portrait of a lady, carefully protected in a morocco case. The owner resisted so desperately the taking of this treasure that he finally sank to the floor, livid, panting, foaming and cursing, as Captain Thornton mockingly read the lines inscribed on the back of the picture:

The flashing light may lighten thy form
In living lines of breathing grace,
May give each trait a tone as warm
As that which melts o'er thy dear face
But in my soul and in my heart

With deeper colors, truer aim,
A loftier power than meager art
Hath graven thy image and thy name.

"He is dead," said Dr. Ellingham, letting the band of poor Sam Pluckney, which he had been holding, fall limp and lifeless to the ground.

"Well, major, that relieves you from duty here. I'll have an ambulance sent around at once. As for the Yankee gentleman, I will take good care of his remains while he is escorted to Richmond and put up at the Hotel de Libby."

With those taunting words Captain Thornton laughed diabolically, then lit a cigar and stood in the doorway of the cabin gazing reminiscently upon the miniature which held the fair features of Mrs. Constance Haverill.

The old warehouse of the Libbys, down on Carey street, near the James river, was the largest structure of its kind in Richmond. It was a vast, dingy, four storied red brick building, with nothing but naked walls, bare timbers and raw rafters drying rooms, whose small windows were not intended primarily to admit light. A few iron bars on these windows and a flimsy partition here and there to divide the space into "rooms," had sufficed to transform the pungent smelling old shell into a capacious military prison for Federal captives whose official rank saved them from the unsheltered pens and stockades of Belle Isle or of Salisbury and Andersonville farther south.

The Daily Novelette.

THE TRAGEDY.
"Never say die!" cried Jimmy Malone.

As he swung on one arm from his burning red home:

Swiftly he dropped nine stories at least—

"Never say die!" Say always "deceased!"

As little Petrarch Pfiff stole down the silent, soundless, soporific street, not a sound, not a soul was in sight. Thus, in the inscrutable wisdom of Providence, R. L., are children the unconscious little agents of different things.

Hah! What's this? What's this? The boy has stopped dead still before a lighted window. His eyes distend, and his lower jaw drops, and he stares, stares. (See footnote.)

Suddenly scream after scream burst silently from his boyish lips. In a moment the street, once so quiet, was now so excited! A motley throng, thrilled, thronged through the thoroughfare.

As one throng, they asked Petrarch Pfiff what was up.

"Look!" whispered the lad, pointing in at the window. "Man brushing his teeth!"

With a low cry of impotent despair the crowd dispersed.

Tells Consumptives How He Got Well

Tuberculosis is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Undoubtedly, some persons are benefited in this way, but the appropriate remedy for Consumption is Eckman's Alternative.

Do all you possibly can to add to strength and increase weight, eat wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air—then, to the sensible things, of effect of Eckman's Alternative. Read what it did in this case:

"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, one of the leading practitioners, said that it was lung trouble. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. The doctors said I would not gain in weight as long as I stayed in the store; but I kept on working and prayed each day that I might get well. I believe my prayers were answered, for Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 300 to 314 Market street, Wilmington, Del.), had learned of a remedy called Eckman's Alternative that had done great good, and upon his recommendation I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alternative saved my life. I sent my spittle later to the State Board of Health to be examined for tuberculosis bacilli, and none were found. My mother died from Consumption when I was about two years old.

"I make this statement so that others may learn of the wonderful merits of Eckman's Alternative. I regard my recovery as being miraculous."

(Signed) JAMES H. SQUIRES, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McKees & Sons, Peoples' Drug Co., in Janesville.

The "Curb Stone" Real Estate Man

Every reader knows to whom the term "Curb Stone" dealer refers.

The man whose only office is his hat. Who watches the other legitimate dealers and tries to steal their sales. Who always keeps his buyer and seller apart so he may gouge commission both ways. Whose whole business plan is gum shoe work.

Does this man ever advertise? Goodness no. He never wants anybody but the victim to know he has anything for sale. The only chance he has for success is his ability to maintain secrecy.

No Property in This Man's Hands is On the Market.

The legitimate dealer welcomes the light of day upon his dealings. He recognizes the fact that classified advertising in the Gazette is a necessary portion of his business. This man you will find represented daily in the Gazette pages.

You may be sure that advertised property is fairly represented and that the parties advertising it are not afraid of publicity.
